The American Red Cross ... Assistance to Hungary to the value of 1,750,000 dollars. The news was given in a telegram sent by Szegedi Mas,ak, Hungarian Minister in Washington to the Hungarian Government. Shoes and clothing are to be sent in the first place and the consignments will include hospital equipment worth 150,000 dollars as well as ambulance cars and office equipment for the Hungarian Red Cross. Bedding will be sent to nurse training schools and Red Cross youth organizations will receive gift parcels containing school articles.

The American Red Cross will send two representatives to Hungary for the execution of the large-scale aid movement which is to start in March and which was organized following the return and report of the former American Red Cross representatives in Hungary.
